Summary of Services

The following chart shows the quantity of each of the Services that will be associated with the End Customer's account following the execution of this Amendment. If the End Customer exceeds any of the usage cap (Total Quantity) for the Services below, Cloudflare will invoice Partner in arrears at a rate that corresponds to the rate set forth in the table after this one labeled "Excess Usage Pricing." If no such Excess Usage Pricing table has been added by the Parties to this order form or if such table does not include the Service(s) for which the End Customer has exceeded the usage cap (Total Quantity), then the Parties will negotiate in good faith an increase in the Fees for such Service(s).

Should the Parties fail to reach an agreement on an increase within thirty (30) days of Partner's receipt of notice from Cloudflare that the End Customer has exceeded its usage cap (Total Quantity) for the Service(s), Cloudflare will have the right to immediately terminate such Service for its convenience, and without liability to Partner or any third party. The pricing herein is specific to End Customer and to the quantity and combination of Services herein. Any changes to the quantity or combination of Services may change the individual and total priced values. This document is exclusively for commercial use between Partner and Cloudflare and is Cloudflare's Confidential Information.
