

Russ Hunter serves as the Executive Vice President of Development where he is responsible for leading and overseeing all aspects of construction and design for both new and existing developments. Russ identifies, creates and leads the development of all projects through site planning and building design. Careful collaboration with investors, finance and legal partners brings the final project to completion.

Russ has been an integral team member on all major projects since the formation of Crawford Hoying's development division. Prior to joining Crawford Hoying, Russ worked in the architecture industry, including tenure at M+A Architects as a Senior Designer for more than 10 years. Russ' experience is focused in but not limited to building design and planning for dozens of projects, most notably Easton Town Center (Columbus, Ohio) and Bridge Park (Dublin, Ohio).

Russ has served on the board of directors for Tantrum Theatre (Ohio University) along with several other committees in the City of Dublin for both planning and the arts.

Russ and his husband live on the Near East Side of Columbus.
