

Ranjan Manoranjan, CPA

Mr. Ranjan Manoranjan is Chairman and CFO of 3SG Corporation and President of QuickAccountant, Inc. Since 1982, he has had a history of taking business ideas through their inception and developing them into successful and lucrative mature companies.

In 1982, Mr. Manoranjan founded the accounting firm, Manoranjan, Shaffer & Associates Inc. Certified Public Accountants. With his 2 partners, they expanded the business to a medium-sized firm with offices in Columbus, and Dayton, Ohio. Here, Mr. Manoranjan's management, business expansion and client acquisition skills were developed.

During his years as a practicing CPA, Mr. Manoranjan wished for a way to focus his team's time and energy on the more lucrative duties and free them from the bookkeeping and write-up tasks that were more time consuming and less profitable than other duties. As a result, his brainchild, QuickAccountant, was created. QuickAccountant is a leading provider of co-sourcing services for CPA firms across the U.S. By merging technology with accounting, QuickAccountant is able to bring their clients an affordable range of bookkeeping and tax services.

Together with his partner, Mr. Nanda Nair, Mr. Manoranjan has grown 3SG Corporation to a 300-person company with 6 locations, in just 6 years. 3SG is an innovative company providing technology co-sourcing to companies and government agencies in order to help them lower costs and increase efficiency by providing them with high quality document imaging and management solutions, and business process co-sourcing.

Always on the look out for innovative ideas, Mr. Manoranjan was the Director of, and helped fund, the long distance company, Conquest, which eventually sold for 80 million dollars, as well as helping to fund the research and development for Techniguide, Inc. an on-the-fly automotive tire inflation system.

Chosen as an Outstanding Young Man of America for 1989 in recognition of professional achievement, superior leadership ability and exceptional service to the community, Mr. Manoranjan has continued to be active and committed to promoting the interest of the community. He currently serves on the executive board of the Ohio Society of CPAs and is on their Statewide Political Endorsement Committee. He was appointed by the Governor of Ohio to a six-year term as a member of the State Board of Tax Appeals. In addition, he has served on various committees, notably the Governmental Affairs Advisory Council and was part of Columbus, Ohio Mayor Michael Coleman's transition committee and on the Boards of various Non-Profit Organizations including the Cancer Society, Tamil Nadu Foundation, Federation of Indian Associations, and the Central Ohio Temple Society. He is the Executive Director of the Asian Indian Alliance of Ohio, a state wide Political Action Committee.

Mr. Manoranjan earned his Certified Public Accountant degree from the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants in 1980. He also holds degrees from the Institute of Chartered Accountants in Colombo, Sri Lanka, and The Institute of Cost & Management in London, England. He has served as a visiting lecturer at the Institute of Chartered Accountants and at colleges.

In 2005 Ranjan received the prestigious Ellis Island Medal of Honor. This award has been given as a symbol of the diversity of America, and signifies the hard work and courage of those who have traveled overseas in the search for a better life, while still preserving their cultural identity. Indeed, these individuals are notable not merely for assimilating successfully into American life, but for acting as community leaders to enrich America. Manoranjan joined the ranks of such distinguished individuals as Hillary and Bill Clinton, George Bush Jr. and Sr., Ronald Reagan, Rosa Parks, and Colin Powell, among many others.
