

Mark K. Milligan

Mark Milligan was a founder of The Arlington Bank in 1999. As its Vice Chairman, he focuses on strategic planning, asset quality and development of the Bank's credit culture. From 1998 through 2009, Mr. Milligan provided advisory services to businesses and not-for-profit organizations through his firm Passage Management. During this time, he also served for two years as President of The Affordable Housing Trust for Columbus and Franklin County. He previously had concluded a twenty-three year banking career as Executive Vice President of State Savings Bank, then the largest home lender and privately owned bank in the Columbus and Phoenix markets.

Mr. Milligan currently serves on the Boards of Directors of The Arlington Bank and of First Federal Savings of Newark, Ohio. He also participates on the Advisory Council of the Federal Home Loan Bank. He previously served on the Boards of: the Ohio Housing Finance Agency; the Columbus Franklin County Finance Authority; the Affordable Housing Trust for Columbus and Franklin County; the ADAMH Board; the Solid Waste Authority of Central Ohio; the Community Shelter Board; Community Housing Network; and Ohio Capital Corporation for Housing.

He and his wife, Mary, reside in Upper Arlington, Ohio, and are the parents of two sons: Luke, a law professor at the University of Louisville, and Charles, a special education supervisor in the Columbus City Schools.

---

Contact Information:

Mark K. Milligan

1275 Fountaine Drive

Columbus, Ohio 43221

PassageMgmt@msn.com