

Jeffrey Lyttle
Midwest Region Vice-President, Community Relations &
Philanthropy
JPMorgan Chase & Co.

Jeff Lyttle joined JPMorgan Chase predecessor Bank One Corporation in 1996.

As Midwest region vice president of community relations, Jeff oversees a $14 million, six-state philanthropy budget on behalf of the JPMorgan Chase Foundation. He also serves as regional spokesperson for the firm.

Jeff has been a communications and public affairs professional for more than 20 years. His career has included five years as a television news producer with Columbus CBS-TV affiliate WBNS-TV and five years in public affairs with Battelle Memorial Institute. He has also been an active freelance writer and author; His writing has been published in several local, regional and national publications. The Ohio State University Press published his book, Gorillas in Our Midst: The Story of the Columbus Zoo Gorillas, in 1997.

Jeff is an active community volunteer and leader. He currently serves as a trustee on the boards of COSI (Columbus's Center of Science and Industry), The Columbus Coalition Against Family Violence, KidsOhio.org, Project GRAD Columbus, and the Worthington Libraries. Jeff is also a member of the Champion of Children Advisory Council.

Jeff and his wife Cathy reside in Worthington with their son, Jack.

Chase and JPMorgan are affiliates of JPMorgan Chase & Co., which employs more than 14,000 Central Ohioans. The firm employs more than 17,000 in Ohio, making it the state's largest financial services employer and one of its top 10 employers overall.