

ARTS RESUME

David C. Hetzler

1645 Ridgway Place

Columbus, OH 43212

614-486-3816 614-329-4278

Active Memberships

Columbus Museum of Art Contemporaries (CMA members specifically interested in Modern art); Wexner Center for the Arts; Pizzuti Collection; Grandview Heights Arts Council; the Columbus Writers & Poets Guild; the Poetry Society of Ohio: the Poetry Society of South Carolina.

Activities

Celebration of Poetry & Poets – created, organized and raised funds for this annual event celebrating National Poetry Month in conjunction with South Side Settlement and Capitol University. For nine years we brought nationally recognized poets to Columbus including a US Poet Laureate, three Pulitzer Prize winners and a National Book Award winner to read poetry along with local young people and adults in a neighborhood center.

Arts Freedom Award (South Side Settlement)

Conceived, organized and raised funds for this annual event recognizing local artists who through their body of work demonstrated a commitment to 'community', working families and advancement of the greater good of Central Ohio. This event was supported by many individuals as well as Huntington Bank, Crab, Brown & James and the Columbus Museum of Art. While honoring local artists, the event raised funds for South Side Settlement programs.

Spoletto Cultural Festival of the Arts – Sundown Poetry Series, Charleston, SC

I was invited to submit original poems to a Jury panel and selected to read to Jury members. I was selected as the featured poet for the 2002 Spoleto Sundown series in Charleston, SC.

Selected as featured reader at Columbus Writers & Poets Guild; (2010, 2012, 2013)

Publications:

Several of my original poems have been published in the Short North Gazette

Selected poem published in an annual poetry series by Pudding House Press

A Sense of Things: a self- published book of poetry, Happenstance Press, 2013

I am interested in serving the advancement of the arts in all its forms as a member of the Greater Columbus Arts Council. I appreciate your consideration.

