Dear Mayor Ginther,

Franklin County Emergency Management and Homeland Security remains committed to providing excellent service to your community in all aspects of preparedness, education, warning, response, and recovery from any disaster whether they are man-made or natural. As part of this service, we have been pleased to administer and coordinate more than $12 million in grants over the past decade. This funding has supported a variety of initiatives from interoperable communications to tabletop and full-scale exercises as well as the sustainment of regional resources including Bomb, Hazmat and Urban Search and Rescue. In 2016, we hosted 25 various incident management classes with most being at minimal or no-cost to your local public safety personnel. This spring we will be releasing the 2016 edition of the Franklin County Risk Assessment for your public safety officials to utilize as a resource in any planning they would undertake.

Franklin County Emergency Management and Homeland Security was formed under Ohio Revised Code Chapter 5502 as a county-wide shared resource supporting every jurisdiction within Franklin County by the adoption of a county-wide agreement in 1988. In order to fund these services, each jurisdiction contributes their respective proportionate share of the agency's operating budget. As spelled out in the agreement, the proportionate share is calculated based upon each jurisdiction's current census information and property valuation as calculated by the Franklin County Auditor.

Enclosed is your community's 2017 invoice for your proportionate share. In addition to the proportionate share, if your community owns outdoor warning sirens, your invoice will include a line item for the annual maintenance and operating costs for the outdoor warning system.

In addition to being accessible to public safety officials and community service partners on a daily basis, I will be visiting each jurisdiction within Franklin County to introduce myself, answer any questions you may have and to further explain the resources available through Franklin County Emergency Management and Homeland Security. I look forward to meeting you in the near future.

Sincerely,

Jeffrey J. Young
