Please include a brief bio below:

My first experiences with the Franklinton community began while working at the Mount Carmel College of Nursing from 2012 to 2018. I quickly fell in love with this neighborhood. As a part of my job in the College Relations department I attended many meetings in the neighborhood, including Franklinton Area Commission meetings. I met my now husband, Trent Smith, in 2016 at one of the monthly luncheons for Franklinton Board of Trade. I moved to the neighborhood in 2017 and began working for another Franklinton-founded company in 2018, where I am still employed today. I have volunteered for, and participated in, many community events, meetings, and fundraisers, giving myself the opportunity to truly meet some long-time Franklintonians and develop a deeper appreciation for my community. My family and I have established deep roots here, and we look forward to a long future as involved residents. I am very proud to call Franklinton my home and am eager to contribute to my community in meaningful ways as a member of the Franklinton Area Commission.
