IIC is public/private partnership bringing together multiple enterprises on behalf of children in Cuyahoga County from pre-natal to Kindergarten. The Tapestry program pilots the concept of neighborhood wrap-around care for severely emotionally disturbed youth. Engagement through The JRS Group, Ltd., reported to the Deputy County Administrator.

American Management Systems, Incorporated

1982-2004

- SVP, General Manager, Public Sector Service Group July 2003-June 2004
- SVP, Deputy General Manager, State and Local Practice October 2002-July 2003
- VP, Regional Manager, Great Lakes Region, S&L Practice 2001-2002
- VP, Regional Manager, Midwest Region for Human Services Practice 1999-2001
- VP, State Executive for Ohio, Human Services Practice 1997-1999
- Senior Principal, Principal 1994-1997
- Project Manager for various Human Services projects 1982 - 1994

All of the projects listed below focused on State program process improvement and included full systems development lifecycle phases – requirements, design, development, all phases of testing (unit, system, integration, usability, performance, UAT) and implementation services (except for the Welfare Reform project). AMS realized in its early child support projects that implementation services were between 30-50% of the effort on the project, and included significant change management services for all affected audience with county/State business process reengineering to be successful. The high end of the range was appropriate for county-based states, like Ohio, Pennsylvania and California. The projects crossed multiple technical platforms (IBM and Unisys mainframes, client-server and web-based systems). Project teams for the DDI projects ranged from 10 (KY CARES) through 100 (CA SACCS).

As the Project Manager, Ms. Hunt was responsible for content and administrative tasks, including client management contract management, task planning, issue and risk management, methodology development/selection, quality – in short for all of the day-to-day project results. As the Responsible Executive, Ms. Hunt was responsible for oversight of the project and ensuring that the client’s business goals were met, as well as for ensuring the project achieved -it’s project-level goals.
