

Michael Lusk, AIA, NCARB Principal

Michael Lusk, AIA, established Lusk Architects Inc. in 1983 as a Columbus, Ohio based architectural, planning and consulting firm. In 1995, Lusk partnered with James Harkin, AIA, to form LUSK & harkin, Ltd.

Mr. Lusk serves as managing principal, responsible for operations, finance and business development with LUSKHARKIN Architects and Planners. His project involvement includes developing goals with clients and then following through to assure those goals are attained. He has been a practicing architect for the past thirty-two years. Mr. Lusk has experience with a wide variety of project types, including retail facilities, office, hospitals, parking garages, athletic clubs, medical buildings and multi-family housing.

This experience encompasses all aspects of project development from early design concepts to design development and planning, architectural design, cost estimating, construction documentation, construction management, construction observation, programming and site election.

Lusk graduated from The Ohio State University with a Bachelor of Science degree in Architecture in 1973. While at Ohio State, he was active in the Alpha Rho Chi professional architectural fraternity. In addition, during his senior year, he took advanced architectural studies in Switzerland under renown Swiss architect Piere Zoelly.
