Dear Valued Partner,

As you have previously been notified, Analytical Technology, Inc (ATi) and s::can Messtechnik GmbH (s::can) were both acquired by Badger Meter at the end of 2020 operating as wholly-owned subsidiaries. Earlier this year, the US legal entity of s::can was merged into the legal entity of ATi and accordingly, s::can's business operations were consolidated into ATi. As of October 1, 2022, one more step will occur: The ATi legal entity will be merged into the Badger Meter legal entity subsequently merging business operations as well.

While the ATi and s::can brands will persist, effective October 1, 2022, the company name will change as follows:

From: Analytical Technology, Inc.
To: Badger Meter, Inc.

We're excited about the further integration of these companies. The staff will remain the same and you will continue to work with the people you know. This strategic move will allow ATi and s::can to better scale and leverage the systems and resources of Badger Meter and ultimately better serve our customers and partners.

We would highly appreciate you bringing this information to the attention of the appropriate departments.
