Bio I was born and raised in Columbus, Ohio and relocated to Indianapolis, IN two years after my 1986 college graduation; since then I have lived in numerous cities due to relocation for career advancements. In April 2013, I relocated to Columbus, Ohio. I have always been a productive citizen in the communities I resided in. In Indianapolis I helped to start the local chapter of National Organization of Black Law Enforcement Executives (NOBLE) and served as Secretary for two years. When I lived in Baltimore, I organized a voter registration drive before the 2009 election. In Chicago, I worked with the IRS officials to donate over 40 computers to Hales Frances (one of the few all male African-American schools in the country). I am currently a member of the Teakwood Heights neighborhood association and have passed out flyers for meetings.

I was born and raised in Teakwood Heights which is part of the North Central Area Commission. I know first-hand that North Central is a community full of hard working taxpaying citizens. These families deserve a voice in the community and to live in a safe environment. I would like to represent my community to ensure that they are aware of all the opportunities the city has to offer, to have a voice in zoning permit requests, to ensure that their neighborhood issues are brought forward; to include safety, specific projects, etc. I enjoy working with others and look forward to the opportunity to serve my community in this capacity.
