I spent years working as a long-haul trucker, traveling the lower 48 checking out all the major metro areas to decide where I wanted to settle down and decided that Columbus was the place for me. In 2016 I bought an old house in Franklinton and set to work on my romantic idea of breathing new life into this property. It was a rough transition to say the least and if not for the social services here I would have fallen flat on my face. Taking advantage of resources at the library I was able to get resume writing and classes at Jobs and Family Services, health insurance through Lower Lights, basic home improvement equipment from the Tool Library, SNAP and food banks so I didn't starve and many other such services that allowed me to get my feet on the ground. With this support I have been able to build a solid foundation and now I feel like I need to give back to the community that took care of me. Joining FAC is the first step to becoming an active member of society and discovering how I can give back in a meaningful way in the years to come.
