The Applicant seeks to rezone a +/- 24.7 acre site located at 198 McNaughten Road from R to L-AR-12. The Applicant submits this statement in support of its requested companion area variance to develop the property as proposed.

The site is located on the east side of McNaughten Road, about 1,500 feet south of East Broad Street. Part of the site was annexed to Columbus in February 2018 and the rest of the parcels were annexed in October 1976. All are currently zoned R as a result. The site is bordered by Columbus property zoned L-AR-12 on the north, L-R2F on the south, and R-1 and R on the west across McNaughten Road. The Site is also bordered on the west across McNaughten Road by Truro Township property zoned R. The Site is bordered on the east by Reynoldsburg property zoned SR.

The site not subject to a commercial overlay nor planning overlay. The site is within the boundary of the Far East Area Commission area and subject to the Far East Land Use Plan (C2P2). The Plan recommends Low-Medium Density use for this site. This is a sub-classification for a residential development which carries a density guideline of 6-10 dwelling units per acre. The Plan also recommends Low-Medium Density use to the immediate north and High-Density use (24-45 dwelling units per acre) north of that property. The Plan recommends Employment Center and Institutional to the west across McNaughten Road and Low-Medium Density to the south.

The Applicant proposes development of the site with multifamily residential buildings, as depicted in the Site Plan. The Applicant's companion rezoning application makes several commitments to landscape preservation, open space, building materials and design, and screening. However, to develop the project as proposed, the Applicant respectfully requests the following companion area variance:

1. 3333.18 – Building lines. McNaughten Road is a 100 – Suburban Community Connector with a 100-foot right-of-way width pursuant to the multimodal thoroughfare plan. This means that the minimum building setback from McNaughten Road is 50 feet from the right-of-way. The Applicant requests a variance to reduce the minimum building line from 50 feet to 30 feet.

The Applicant suffers a practical difficulty resulting from conditions on the property. Specifically, the property has a gas easement that runs through the eastern portion of this property. This gas easement significantly reduces the developable area of the property. Additionally, the Applicant is making commitments to preserve landscaping and open space east of the gas easement. This further reduces the developable area of the property and pushes the remaining options for development closer to McNaughten Road. However, commitments to provide this open space to on the east portion of the property are the best interest of the neighborhood and create a better experience for the residents of this development. Additionally, as a result of these entitlement applications and commitment to improve McNaughten Road with a turn lane, the City will require additional McNaughten right-of-way to be dedicated. As a result, the site plan's original proposed setback is reduced by the right-of-way dedication. The reduced setbacks are warranted in consideration of these special conditions and it will not seriously affect any adjoining property owner or the general welfare.

The requested variance is not substantial, will not substantially alter the essential character of the neighborhood, and will not cause adjoining properties to suffer substantial detriment. The request to reduce the building line from 50 feet to 30 feet is not substantial because there will still remain a substantial building and parking setback. Further, the Applicant is committed to front setback landscaping and features which will reduce any impact caused by the reduced building setback.

The requested variance will not adversely affect the delivery of governmental services. The Applicant's predicament cannot feasibly be obviated through some other method. Granting of this variance will ensure that the spirit and intent behind the zoning requirements will be observed and substantial justice be done.

Respectfully submitted,
