

Josh is CEO and Owner of Continental Building Company (CBC). He leads the company's strategic direction, vision, and growth. Working closely with CBC's executive team, he drives all business and operational activities to produce successful projects that are in alignment with the company's core values and mission.

A 28-year veteran of the construction industry, Josh first learned the business from his father and grandfather. He worked in all positions, from laborer, foreman, superintendent, project engineer, project manager, and Senior VP of Operations, prior to becoming president of a regional construction company in 2015. After several years of leading strategic growth with that firm, Josh left to become Owner and CEO of Continental Building Company.

Foundational to Josh's success has been his commitment and leadership to the greater construction industry. He has served as past President of the Builder's Exchange of Central Ohio and the Central Ohio Associated General Contractors. He currently serves as President of the Builder's Exchange of Central Ohio Foundation Board and as Vice President of the Associated General Contractors of Ohio.

Josh is also actively involved in the community. He is a current board member of Columbus Association for the Performing Arts (CAPA) and Columbus Next Generation Corporation. He is a past board member of the Ohio State Apprenticeship Council, Mount Carmel Foundation, Leadership Columbus, and the COSI Community Board.

Josh is an active member and past board member of the Young Presidents Organization (YPO). In 2010, Josh was honored to be named to Columbus Business First's 'Forty Under 40' class. He is a 2002 graduate of Leadership Columbus and in 2017 was inducted into the Leadership Columbus Hall of Fame.

Josh is a graduate of Ohio University and lives in Upper Arlington with his wife, Amy, and their three children.