Dear Mr. Freeman,

This letter is in response to your request for information regarding Information Builders, Inc. (“IBI”) software products.

IBI is a privately held corporation headquartered in New York. IBI is the developer and publisher of a family of products known as FOCUS, WebFOCUS and iWay product families comprised of proprietary software to which IBI holds trademarks and copyrights. IBI maintains the source code for the products and therefore is the only provider of the products through new licenses and related enhancement, maintenance and support, services and education for such software products and for applications created using those products.

If you have any further questions regarding this notice or require any additional information regarding the FOCUS, WebFOCUS and or iWay products and services, please do not hesitate to contact Information Builders at (212) 736-4433.

Sincerely,

David Boyle
Vice President
