

Jonathan Wade Bio

As a seasoned professional in Financial Reporting, my extensive background equips me with a unique lens to approach the financial aspects of the relevant issues the commission addresses. My experience allows me to provide comprehensive perspectives and offer key insights that can contribute to informed decision-making.

Beyond my professional endeavors, I have actively engaged in community service organizations, particularly those focused on giving back to the youth. This commitment stems from my belief that positive change begins at the local level, and empowering the younger generation is instrumental in fostering a thriving community.

I am drawn to the opportunity to serve on the commission, not only as a financial expert but also as an advocate for community service. My passion for improving pedestrian infrastructure and walkability aligns seamlessly with the commission's mission. I am eager to leverage my skills and experience to contribute meaningfully to quality-of-life improvements for Franklinton residents.

My dedication to enhancing the local community, coupled with my financial acumen, positions me as a candidate uniquely poised to make substantial contributions to the commission's objectives. I am enthusiastic about the prospect of collaborating with fellow commissioners to drive positive changes that directly impact the lives of Franklinton residents.
