Subject: Proprietary Software and Services

Dear Ms. Pesta:

Currently the City of Columbus has Intergraph software in use. As the manufacturer of the software products, Intergraph Corporation, now doing business as Hexagon Safety & Infrastructure, provides unique value in supporting the elements of the software directly provided by Intergraph. Only Intergraph directly may provide the maintenance and support services for these products to the City of Columbus. No other vendor may offer substitute maintenance services for the products currently in use, as Intergraph owns the intellectual property and source code incorporated into the products.

Should you have any questions, or require additional information regarding this issue, please do not hesitate to contact me

Sincerely,

Doug Hawkins
Contracts Manager
