BACKGROUND: The City of Columbus has received a grant from FEMA for reimbursement of snow removal costs incurred in association with the record snowfall that began on March 7, 2008. It is necessary to accept the grant award and appropriate funds.

FISCAL IMPACT: This grant will reimburse the city 75 percent of eligible costs associated with snow removal costs associated with the snow event. The amount of the grant is $276,081.20. There is no state match associated with this grant. Funds will be deposited to a grant project set up for this purpose. Funds will then be transferred out of the grant fund into the funds from which the original expenses were incurred, as supported by documentation complied by the Department of Finance and Management and reported to FEMA.

This ordinance is submitted as an emergency so as to allow the financial transaction to be posted in the city's accounting system as soon as possible. Up to date financial processing promotes accurate accounting and financial management.
